Not illustrated. 1874 Excerpt: .she cries out from the prison, the. rack, the stake, the cross, till at last her voice is heard. And when that voice is really heard, whether in martyr cries, or in earthquake tones of civil convulsion, or in the calmness of ordinary speech, such as I now employ, or in that still, small utterance inaudible to the common ear, then is the beginning of victory! Give me where to stand, and I will move the world, said Archimedes; and truth asks no more than did the master of geometry. Viewed in this aspect, the present occasion rises above any ordinary course of lectures or series of political meetings. It is the inauguration of Freedom. From this time forward, her voice of warning and command cannot be silenced. Speaking of the objection to the anti-slavery enterprise, that it lacked the authority of names eminent in Church...
